

UK Core Student Learning Outcomes: Old and New (Composition and Communication)

Updated New Version		Old Version on Canvas
I	1. Create shared understanding through audience appropriate communication in multiple modalities (written, oral, visual), technological platforms and contexts. 2. Demonstrate information literacy skills in finding, analyzing, evaluating, citing and using credible sources to communicate messages and to support ideas and arguments. 3. Develop effective strategies for integrating emerging technologies in communication, messaging and through collaboration in all modalities.	1. Intelligible Messages: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct intelligible messages. 2. Sound Evidence: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct messages with sound evidence. 3. Sound Reasoning: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct messages with sound reasoning.
II	1. Practice advanced information literacy skills to develop credible and scholarly support of communication. 2. Compose and deliver professional and effective communication and messages for the audience, purpose, channel and occasion. 3. Employ critical thinking and collaborative skills to both analyze and produce arguments to participate in civil and informed dialogue. 4. Revise and refine speaking, writing and visual communication skills, focusing on matters of construction, design, delivery style and emerging technologies.	4. Specified Audience: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct messages that are appropriate for a specified audience. 5. Specified Purpose: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct messages that are appropriate for a specified purpose. 6. Selected Form: Student will demonstrate the ability to construct a message effectively for the selected form (written, oral, and/or visual). -6a. Selected Form (Written Assignment ONLY): Student will demonstrate the ability to construct a message effectively for the selected form (written). -6b. Selected Form (Oral Assignment ONLY): Student will demonstrate the ability to construct a message effectively for the selected form (oral). - 6c. Selected Form (Visual Assignment ONLY): Student will demonstrate the ability to construct a message effectively for the selected form (visual).